Natural Gas Drillers	Not sure	Not sure	New York	14214	February 22, 2014 Dear Public Officials and Elected Officials You ARE entrusted with our public health, longterm sustainability, environmental regulation, SEC filings, and DOT and Utility Infrastructure, etc. Please be sure, for the sake of children and our home/real property value, that you concern yourselves with radioactive elements present in Utica and Marcellus Shale. I hope that my comments on the NYS energy plan help you address the radioactive content of Marcellus shale and, more importantly the larger, deeper layer beneath named Utica Shale. The choice to rely on these energy sources needs to be stopped due to the potentially adverse radioactive levels and content that these energy sources will unleash on the surface of the earth . I do not want to roast my turkey dinner in radioactive-natural-gas fueled home oven and then feed radioactive isotopes (of any amount) to my family, every time I cook. I do not want my home furnace (forced air) to contaminate my home over next 50+ years with radioactive-natural-gas, building up levels of radioactivity that contaminate my home and make it condemned and toxic. ? What will my homeowners insurance pay for clean up of this kind of contamination after years of build up?? ?Will my home have any resale value in the far future, or even be insurable? ? What of industrial uses of radioactive natural gas and contamination throughout our region?? Please be sure experts and knowledgeable comments are presented about this aspect. And that the Neuclear Regulatory Agencies of both State and Federal Government are providing regulations for testing at		yes	no	Unknown	Falsified	Land Water Air Worker	Unknown

Unknown	2363 East 16 Street	Brooklyn	New York	11229	I am very concerned about the above stated address. Outside their house is a tree that is city property and previously they had a sign that read not to let your dog poop because there was a camera. I do understand the stress of people letting their dogs relieve themselves and not pick it up. That is terrible and inconsiderate. But now, they have a sign that states rat poison has been put down. It also states not to let your dog there because they can get sick. I don't know if they realize that they can kill the dog or do they. There are people in my area that do not read, write or speak English. If their dog goes there, it can kill the poor dog. I do know that this is illegal and they cannot put this poison down on city property. Something has to be done about this. It is not a good thing. I do have a picture of the sign on my phone of the sign. I would appreciate it, if something could be done about this before an innocent dog gets poisoned and dies. I also would like to be notified as to the outcome of this. Thank you.	09/30/2013	yes	yes	Intentional	Fill	Land	Individual
Unknown	Unknown	New York	New York	Unknown	Trucks that have exhaust pipes fitted to the passenger side outside the truck often ride through communities of color emitting soot into the air. I've seen this occur only in my community. Our city buses had to be upgraded by law to prevent them from emitting these toxic pollutants into the air. Why are these trucks allowed to do this? I hope to have my smartphone handy when this happens again. This shouldn't be allowed to continue therefore I hope to be able to provide a photo. Communities of color in NYC suffer from respiratory ailments that no doubt can partly be attributed to these TRUCKS!	09/28/2013	yes	no	Intentional	Release	Air	Company

The bag is filled with used, empty bottles of Ultravist. Ultravist is name brand version of Iopromide, produced by Bayer. It is an intravenous radiocontrast agent, injected into the body to enhance the imaging of internal organs and blood vessels during x-ray and CT scans. Also in the bag are used syringes and catheters used to administer the drug. I estimate there are several dozen each of used syringes, catheters and Ultravist bottles. I have photographed a number of the Ultravist bottles for the purpose of recording the lot numbers, which can be used to identify the purchaser of the equipment. Jose A Dominguez	Unknown	Staten Island	New York	Unknown	On the 08/30/13 Jose A Dominguez came in to my house to deinstallation of the old central a/c and heating unit and install the new ones. When he was deinstalling the old condenser, he pumped out the refrigerant gas out of the system a little bit and then told his partner to cut off the copper lines, which were coming out of the tank inside the condenser. When Jose's partner started to do so, the gas(R-22) started to flow out under very high pressure. The windows in the house were opened, which tried to close ASAP, and the back door of the house was opened, which I tried to close, but couldn't close tight because of the extension cord these workers were using. The gas was flowing out for the next 5-7min. And when I asked the Jose if it's normal, he said "yes", and that he couldn't pump out all gas of the system, so whatever left needed to be released. We are undergoing a change of HVAC units in each apt. This has been ongoing for about two years now. Since the onset of the work, people have been getting sick with various illnesses that they have never had before, such as upper resperatory infections, asthma attacks, sore throats, general malaise, etc. I myself have come down with chronic bronchitis. There are also many complaints about not being able to breath and runny noses and especially a tinny taste in the mouth. I am fine in the mornings, but if I venture outside my apt., into the hallways or elevator I always come home with a tinny taste on my tongue. The ceilings on the main floor hallway are open, the pipes exposed. Workers are opening the walls in our apts. and leaving exposed pipes, as well as dust and dirt. They are not cleaning up after themselves. Many of us have had to call the person in charge (a man named Chris) and he has had to send workers back to the apts. to clean up. One of our elevators is being used by the workers to transport materials to and from the apartments. The elevator smells of chemicals and is full of dust and dirt, which spills out into the hallway when the elevator door opens. I am writing as a representative of many of the cooperators here who wish, if possible, to have someone from the EPA come here and test the air. It seems obvious that something dangerous to our heath is being emitted.		yes	no	Unknown	Release	Air	Company	The main office building is on Eighth Avenue and West 25th street. Rodeph Shalom School	168 West 79 Street	New York City	New York	10024	To Whom It May Concern: I live in New York City, at 172 West 79th Street, Apartment 9F, and my windows overlook the roof of a school called Rodeph Shalom. I recently purchased an expensive Air Quality Monitor (Dylos DC1700) because my upstairs neighbors are heavy smokers and the SHS fills my apartment at all hours. The Monitor has revealed an additional problem, which I only assume comes from the 16 or so vents and fans on the school buildings' roofs. The school exhaust system must be on a timer, because they go off at certain regular times (weekday and Saturday evenings between 7and 10pm for example), and when they do, they hum and whirr, and the readings on the Dylos Monitor SKYROCKET. The monitor shows the number of small particles (less than 2.5 microns in diameter) in hundreds, per square foot. I have read that particles this tiny are dangerous because they are breathed deep into the lungs and lodge there. Our bodies have defenses (saliva, cilia, etc) against larger particles (i.e. dust), but quantities of small ones constitute a serious health problem. 0-75 is considered excellent air. Depending on which research to believe, over 300 is fair, over 1000 is unhealthy, over 3000 is unacceptable. When Rodeph Shalom's vents are humming, my readings are regularly 5000 to 8000. I have contacted the school and asked if they know exactly what is coming from the vents, and if the system is on a timer. They refuse to say based on 'security concerns'. (They describe themselves as a Reform Jewish school and invoke mass murders and shootings, much to my horror). I suggested they might test the air themselves, and		yes	no	Unknown	Release	Air	Unknown

Delta Airlines	112 W 34th St., Ste. 2104	New York	New York	10120	Re: Copy of Letter Mailed to the NY EPA office re: HAZMAT Abatement Dear Mr. Everett: I am writing to you out of concern regarding the demolition of the Terminal 3 building (aka Pan Am Worldport) at JFK airport and the related hazardous materials abatement. It is my understanding that a hazardous materials abatement, which included asbestos removal [and lead paint], was to take place before the demolition of the terminal began. I understand that asbestos removal, even in unoccupied buildings, can take years to complete safely, so I find it rather surprising that this process was completed on Terminal 3 in fewer than 30 days without any visible signs of containment. I assume it was completed since demolition of the terminal began on June 20. I'm sure your understand the health risks and consequences of improper or incomplete asbestos [and lead paint] removal, and would like to know that Delta Airlines, the Port Authority of NY/NJ, and the demolition company employed by Delta Airlines have been given permission to proceed with demolition. If not, I would like to request that the PA investigate the site to ensure that all hazardous materials have been properly abated or removed. In the event that hazardous materials are present, I assume your office will take steps to order a cease and desist on any further demolition until such time that the site is deemed safe. Thank you for your attention to this matter, and I look forward to hearing from you. P.S. 26 Jesse Owens	1014 Lafayette Ave.	Brooklyn	New York	11221	Construction has been going on for about 2 months both day and late night (and in violation of NYC's permitted hours of construction) on the roof of public school 26 located at 1014 Lafayette Ave. & Malcolm X Blvd. This construction is emitting an intensely potent toxic vapor into the air. A scent resembling something tar-like in odor. As a member of our local community board, I can testify to the fact that it has permeated into all the homes in the community and giving members of the neighborhood symptoms of intense headaches and nausea and an inability to be at peace in our own homes or to sleep properly at night. This odor is the most powerful type of scent we have ever experienced. It goes beyond anything normal at a construction site. We are extremely worried about the toxicity of what is in the air right now and the repercussions of it to us all medically. Our daily quality of life has been greatly disturbed by the fact that this foul emission in the air is so aggressively permeating all our homes even though all windows and doors have remained shut 24/7 during all of this construction. PLEASE send an inspector ASAP to check into this matter on the roof of this school and see what can be done to cease the use of whatever toxic construction material is being used. Josephine Villari	1544 Rhinelander Ave	Bronx	New York	10461-2206	The owners at 1544 Rhinelander Ave Bronx, NY 10461 have once again been carless when disposing of their garbage. We live next door to 1544 Rhinelander Ave, which is a semi-attached, private 2 family home occupied by tenants. The tenants dispose of their garbage in trash receptacles that face our home door and the carelessness of the tenants has exposed our family, including young children, to the dangerous insects as a roaches and rodents attracted by the garbage. When we enter our home, we have to run through our door to avoid the numerous flies and insects from entering our house. We are also unable to stay outside with our children because the mosquitoes, roaches, and rodents create risk of illness to our children. The sight of the garbage is ghastly; the bins are overflowing, spilling with waste. The solid waste is not separated from recyclables and this has in turn created contamination of the air and led to rodents. The odor of the garbage has become a permanent fixture in the surrounding area. In addition, the improper garbage disposal has caused rats and insects to be ubiquitous around the area. There are constantly flies, mice, and mosquitoes roaming the area because they are attracted by the garbage. It has become a health and environmental hazard that must be stopped. It is irresponsible of the occupants to dispose of garbage so carelessly, consequently creating a dreadful environment for the neighborhood and for our home. There has been an unceasing effort to encourage the tenants to dispose of their garbage properly, however the tenants are unresponsive. Nassau County	Bap Park Sewage Treatment Facility	East Rockaway	New York	11518	Please see the below story from the LI Herald, quoting a SUNY Stony Brook article about the pollution emanating from the Bay park Sewage Treatment facility, in East Rockaway, NY. It seems like this pollution was not storm based, but rather, may be a continuing pattern of pollution by this treatment facility, in violation of federal law. I implore you to look into this. " Battelle and Stony Brook representatives shared their findings at a Jan. 23 educational forum at the Nassau County Legislature, explaining that high levels of nitrogen ?? which spur harmful algae growth -? have been found in these waterways, particularly near the Bay Park Sewage Treatment Plant outfall pipe in Reynolds Channel, just north of the Long Beach fishing pier.After examining various sources of nitrogen, Swanson said, he concluded that much of it comes from sewage treatment plants. ?If you sum all of these up,? he said, ?about 95 percent of the total nitrogen contributed to the area, as we have been able to measure, comes from sewage treatment plants. The Ormonde, LLC (building owned by Carnegie Hill Properties))	154 W. 70th Street	New York	New York	10023	This is a residential building doing asbestos removal on the roof, and construction/demolition projects throughout the building. An asbestos removal notice (white paper) was posted at the front door of the building and at the stairwell leading to the roof from the top floor. The notice was posted some time in late Sept or early-mid October. Residents were not otherwise cautioned and the stairs leading to the roof from the top floor (where people live) did not appear to be sealed off. A building worker reportedly verbally indicated to one tenant that the asbestos could come in through a window. Residents on the top floor are concerned about exposure to toxins. There was a roof collapse in a unit on the top floor in late July, which preceded much of this demolition. There has been dust visible in the air and foul odors, and two tenants report dust coming through their vents. At least five residents of the top floor have not been feeling well and a complaint has also been filed with the NYC Dept. of Health. Tenants have a photo of the notice by the stairs but not photos of the stairwell or roof.	10/15/2012	yes	yes	Intentional	Release	Air	Company	Building is located at the south east corner of West 70th Street and Broadway.

The zapping irritation feels like a sharp, painful, sting and sounds a bit like a mosquito when the air/sound wave hits. I've considered contacting FCC for possible Signal violations, but don't know exactly where to begin. I've done my part and continue to Complain to doctors, and filing an official Agency complaint. I can't do and know everything, but I know Danger, and when I had a toy air gun as a child the sound and force of air it carried was nerve rattling, like the Sound I described. 8 East 83rd Street Board	8 East 83rd street	New York	New York	10028	January ?16, 2012 Shoddy working practices continue here. I am living in a sickening environment. For at least the last six months a 5 foot square opening in the ceiling has been visible in the service area outside my apartment. The adjacent wall has been stripped. I quickly run out there to empty my garbage and run back into my apartment. As of last Monday, January ?9th, a worker opened ?about a three square foot area in the ceiling of the front hall just outside my apartment without sealing the front door to my apartment with plastic, nor the one across the hall for that matter. I was not notified that the work would be done. A huge amount of dust came down and flew into my apartment. He worked without a ?plastic tent around the opening to contain the dust. He just let the debris fall and the dust spread. I immediately felt pain in my throat and chest. When the worker finished he covered the opening in the front hall ceiling with cardboard and tape. I called the super, Bill Tracy, that day to complain about the dreadful onslaught. He said he was very sorry. He said the worker was inexperienced and didn't know how to protect the area. He said there is a leak in the ceiling which required leaving the service area ceiling open these last few months. The reason for opening the ceiling in the front hall on Monday was for further exploration to find the source of the leak. He told me that the leak is coming from the north side of the building into the ceiling area so that it is not over my apartment. Friday, January 13th, the card board and tape in the front hall fell down with more dust and some debris. Josephine Villari	1544 Rhinelander Ave	Bronx	New York	10461	The owners at 1544 Rhinelander Ave Bronx, NY 10461 have been carless when disposing of their garbage. We live next door to 1544 Rhinelander Ave, which is a semi-attached, private 2 family home occupied by tenants. The tenants dispose of their garbage in trash receptacles that face our home door and the carelessness of the tenants has exposed our family, including young children, to the dangerous insects as a roaches and rodents attracted by the garbage. When we enter our home, we have to run through our door to avoid the numerous flies and insects from entering our house. We are also unable to stay outside with our children because the mosquitoes, roaches, and rodents create risk of illness to our children. The sight of the garbage is ghastly; the bins are overflowing, spilling with waste. The solid waste is not separated from recyclables and this has in turn created contamination of the air and led to rodents. Especially given of the humid summer air, the odor of the garbage has become a permanent fixture in the surrounding area. In addition, the improper garbage disposal has caused rats and insects to be ubiquitous around the area. There are constantly flies, mice, and mosquitoes roaming the area because they are attracted by the garbage. It has become a health and environmental hazard that must be stopped. It is irresponsible of the occupants to dispose of garbage so carelessly, consequently creating a dreadful environment for the neighborhood and for our home. There has been an unceasing effort to encourage the tenants to dispose of their garbage properly, however the tenants are unresponsive. Port Authority New York	George Washington Bridge	New York	New York	unknown	Air pollution at the toll plaza is high (we had to keep windows up and a/c on) due to the large number of vehicles that sit with engines idling because the port authority has extremely limited number of cash toll collecting booths. The plaza has 20 or more lanes but only a couple are available to cash customers, thus the backup and resulting air pollution is a direct result of the officals incharge refusing to provide sufficient cash collecting toll booths to allow the traffic to flow faster. On this date the backup was a minimum of 30 minutes, where as the ezpass lanes (20 or more) were consistantly empty. I suggest the Port Authority be required to make a minimum of 75% of the toll lanes be capable of accepting cash or credit card, to not only speed consumers through but to drastically cut down on the air pollution.	06/22/2012	yes	yes	Intentional	Release	Air	Government /Military

Nick Giordano	211 63rd Street	Brooklyn	New York	11220	I am writing in regards to a failure by BMW to honor their warranty for my Super Ultra Low Emissions Vehicle (SULEV). I first purchased my 2003 BMW 325is (SULEV) with approximately 116,000 miles on the vehicle. As with any used car, I was sure to do my research before committing to buy. I was aware it contained a M56 engine rather than a M54, as well as the fact it utilized a considerably expensive stainless-steel fuel tank opposed to the plastic one found in a regular e46 in accordance to its emission minimization. I also noticed that stated clearly in the Service & Warranty booklet the car was still under a specific California Emissions Warranty which: "If any emission related part on your vehicle is defective, the part will be repaired or replaced by BMW NA. This is your emission control system DEFECTS WARRANTY," "For 15 years or 150,000 miles whichever occurs first." Considering that emissions related parts would be covered for another 34,000 miles, the car ran like brand new, and it was a beautifully spotless silver e46; for $6,500 I could not resist nor did I have anything to fear. How ignorant I was. The car performed flawlessly with no problems until it reached about 125,000 miles when suddenly, out of the blue, the car would not start. I had my trusted mechanic inspect the car and he informed me that the problem was a failed fuel pump, which could not be replaced without replacing the entire fuel tank, reason being that they are in actuality attached as a single part. Recalling that this is under the specific emissions warranty, I had the car diagnosed at my local dealer, Life Quality BMW located in Bay Ridge, Brooklyn. Mr. Simon Arnica	68 Broad Street	Staten island	New York	10016	To whom it may concern, I Russell Hudyberdi, am writing this statement to the epa about Mr. Simon Arnica due to violation of the epa law: U.S Clean Air Act of 1990. Mr. Arnica owns a business that installs and repairs heating and air conditioning equipment. As an employee, I have witness Mr. Arnica does not own a D.O.T recovery tank or recovery machine and permits his employees to release refrigerant into the air or into a 5 gallon bucket of water. Mr.Arnica is also in violation of the epa laws by hiring current employees, that are handling refrigerant, without haveing an epa license. I feel it is my obligation to notify the epa about these current violations against epa law and highly recommend for an investigation. Most Ironworking Companies	on all the bridges in NYC	NYC	New York	10034	Hello there, this morning I was watching TV and it was all about lead and the dangers it creates. I am a NYC Ironworker and I want to tell everybody about the amount of lead being put into the environment by the workers on the Manhattan Bridge and all the bridges in the NYC area. On the Manhattan Bridge we are changing the suspension cables which entails removing the cast iron knuckle which supports and hold the cable in place. There is literally pounds and pounds of pure lead that was pours into the space between the cable and the knuckle. I am talking about all the way on the very top of the main cables. All of the knuckles are being replaced without any care whatsoever of containing the lead. In fact the we are allowing all that lead to be airborne and to fall into the waters below without any containing whatsoever. If you take a count of how many knuckles we're talking about, which easily can go into the hundreds, we're talking about literally tons of lead being poured into our environment by the Ironworkers. What they do is when an inspector is coming over to check, they have us picking up only the big pieces from the deck from where we're working on. We have vacuums, but they are never used. Not at all. I swear to you all this information is true and accurate. The only time the vacuum is used is when the inspectors are coming, which is one or twice every couple of months. Otherwise, tons and tons of lead is allowed to go airborne and to fall into the waters below. If you were to have an inspector take a weight of all the lead that has been collected, compared to the amount of lead estimated to have been used to fill the		yes	no	Intentional	Release	Land Air Water	Company

I clean my property often, so the garbage never accumulates, but Burger King has refused to clean around their property and the garbage is accumulating all around my property and my neighbors property border fences. We have noticed mice around the area and are concerned with rats coming onto our property next. I have asked them to also fence off the area, so their customer do not hide behind the dumpster and urinate and defecate on my fence or behind the dumpster, but their have refused. Unknown	4305 Broadway	New York	New York	10033	While walking my dog near the corner of 184th Street and Broadway I noticed that the air was very smokey and thought there was a house fire nearby. I looked around to see if I could determine the cause before calling the fire department. The smoke smelled strongly like a building fire, burning furniture and electrical insulation. Standing on the north side of 184th Street and looking south at the rooftops I could see that the cause of the smoke was the chimney which I later determined belonged to the building at 4305 Broadway. The plume of smoke was thick and black. I know that heating plants are permitted to emit dark exhaust for a certain short period of time until they come up to temperature, but this plume continued for the twenty minutes that I watched it (11:05-11:25pm) and was still going after I left the area. It was very hard to breathe and I couldn't stay there anymore. The street was thick with a dense, choking smoke. I took a short video of the plume with my cellphone and have 1:18 of it should you need it for evidence. If this had happened in the day it would have been very evident, but at that hour of the night few people are out. Although I checked "Unknown" I believe this violation was intentional and someone was disposing of something that shouldn't be openly burned.	03/27/2012	no	no	Unknown	Release	Air	Unknown	The building in question is on the west side of Broadway, just south of the intersection of 184th St. and Broadway

INAX	15 W. 20th Street	New York	New York	00000	As reflected in the attached advertisement from a recent trade magazine, INAX is promoting its Eco-X® toilets as having a ?Hyper Clean Antibacterial Surface? that ?prevents the growth of microbes.? The ad?s graphic includes a diagram showing an ?antimicrobial? in or under the glaze on the surface of the toilet. Similar claims appear on INAX?s website. See www.inax-usa.com/search/search.cgi?blog_id=5&tmpl_id=284&search_toilet_ecox=1. Under FIFRA?s definitions of ?pest? and ?pesticide,? FIFRA § 2(t) and (u), 7 U.S.C. § 136 (t) and (u), the above antimicrobial claims demonstrate that the Eco-X® toilet is a ?pesticide? subject to regulation under FIFRA. Moreover, because the antimicrobial claims are not limited to claims of protection of the toilet itself, the Eco-X® toilet does not qualify for the ?treated article exemption? from FIFRA?s pesticide registration requirement. 40 C.F.R. § 152.25(a); see also EPA Pesticide Registration Notice 2000-1, ?Applicability of the Treated Articles Exemption to Antimicrobial Pesticides.? Indeed, the INAX advertisement?s promotional language falls squarely within the types of claims that P.R. Notice 2000-1 identifies as necessitating a pesticide registration (see P.R. Notice 2000-1 Part IV.A, referencing ?antibacterial? as an example of a claim that is unacceptable under the exemption and Part IV.C generally describing as unacceptable various unqualified antimicrobial claims). There is a home that is presently under investigation from the New York Building Department as they made basement renovations without a permit and unlicensed contractors. They recently turned the basement into an illegal conversion and there is someone living down there. I have seen the inspectors coming to visit the home many times but without entrance. Brigham Park Coop Section 3	3105 Avenue V (basement)	Brooklyn	New York	11229	Basement foundation leaking water. Due to this leak there are pieces of the wall missing in the recreation room about 12-15 ft. long and 1-1 1/2 high from the floor up. I live on the 1st floor and there are mites most likely rodent but maybe avian as well coming into my apartment (swarming) day and night. This has been going since end of June and mgmt. has been notified several times. Now that it is winter it is worse as they swarm up thru my radiators everytime the heat comes on. I have been to the ER several times now. In the 1st month I have began to show signs of rickettsia akari. I am scheduled for an antibody test 3/1/12 and I am just so suffering all the time. I believe there are other leaks in different parts of the basement as I am not on the side of the bldg. with the rec room. Mold and other insects are also a real concern as well. I have had several exterminators in here and they aren't bed bugs or fleas. The worst time of these bug attacks is between 11pm and dawn but now that the heat is on all day I could be attacked all day long. Humidity plays into this as well. I have been unable to catch a sample of them as they are the size of a period on a sentence and resemble specks of fine sand or finely ground black pepper. I have caught on a lint roller and on tape but the exterminator told me he didn't know what he was looking at. I do not know how to collect them properly. I will also try to contact a university entomology dept so see if I can get some kind of help here.		yes	no	Unknown	Spill	Water	Unknown	Knapp Street and Avenue V. (corner building)

Ultimate Aircraft Appearance Corporation	147-39 175th Street	Jamaica	New York	11434	Ultimate Aircraft Appearance Company is suppose to have a protocol in place that they follow for each job. One of the very first steps to drywashing an aircraft is to lay a tarp on the ground to contain all the product as it comes off the aircraft. Instead they just let it fall to the ground/flight-line and be absorbed into the earth and water. There is aircraft chemicals such as oil and hydraulic fluid that is being disposed in a dry form to the ground. They have been doing this at the Orlando, Fort Lauderdale and Tampa airports for some time now. Each company and contracting agency understands that this is a very important step in the drywashing process and their management probably understands that their employees are doing this. In wet washing the water and waste must be contained and sucked back up and then properly disposed of via another vendor such as Safety-Kleen. In this case the drywash dust is not being contained and they are just letting it blow away on the ground. Eventually it will get into the ground and water. The airport authorities are most likely not aware of this as well. These are grounds and circumstances for them to lose their permits and be removed from the airfield.		yes	no	Unknown	Release	Land Water	Company

This is business is located behind my house and the chimney is placed in a diagonal direction to my house, but the smoke is penetrating through the windows and walls. I started noticing last winter when I began getting breathing problems and very low energy which reduced my capacity to perform at work. I sleep during the day because I work the overnight shift at The Associated Press Spanish Service. And it is during the day when their business operates. I spoke to the owner (Nick -cell phone: 646 404-6222) during the summer and asked him to make changes, building a taller chimney like many other business have done on the same street. He claimed they have discontinued using that chimney for business purpose. But today Dec. 2nd, I saw the same black smoke expelled from that very same chimney. When I called him he claimed it was only for a short time they were going to use it. Then he claimed that he had been doing this activity for many years with no problem and he challenged me to do whatever I wanted against him. I told him I was going to contact the EPA. New York City Department of Buildings	280 Broadway, 7th Floor	New York	New York	10007	URGENT Background and Issues-On August 30th, 2011, the NYC Department of Buildings (DOB)did a full vacate on the address I had lived at for four years, as opposed to the partial vacate orders despite no illegal conversions being on the floor I rented. Although the owner sealed the building with concrete downstairs and wood upstairs, DOB had assumed control of access to the building and was aware of it being sealed as of September 10th, 2011 when an inspector went there to check wiring and was able to get in, according to their records. For over three weeks no one bothered to inform me of this, despite interaction with them and other agencies about my tenant rights being violated and how I would retrieve belongings once I returned to NYC from a work assignment cross-country. I mentioned twice in e-mails to DOB borough hierarchy, its citywide publicity staffer, and the area councilman's office that 1) I learned of the situation firsthand when I returned and saw the building before meeting an inspector, and no one showed up on September 27th, 2011. 2) The next day when a DOB inspector did show up, the building was still sealed. 3) I called the bank's property management and found out that it was not sealed by the bank nor would they ever do this. 4) Since neither DOB nor the bank sealed the building, the owner had. All parties knew that I had traveled hours before the vacate actions of August 30th, 2011, and that I could not return for 1-1/2 to three weeks. 5) Again, DOB had control of access to the building, and my only response was that they could not contact the owner. 6) Finally, on October 3rd, 2011, I got an e-mail from	09/10/2011	yes	no	Intentional	Release	Air	Government /Military	3835 Bailey Avenue is unoccupied, so contact me by e-mail only. I will be moving September 13th prior to my lease expiration date. He is using uncertified workers who have caused dust hazards in the common areas and in individual apartments. I and other tenants have made 311 complaints regarding dust in the air, and uncertified workers not using required work practices. The NYC DOHMH made an air quality inspection on July 19, 2011. The inspector found moderate levels of airborne dust from the work in progress (NYC DOHMH Notice of Violation, issued 7/19/2011, CC No. 11-07-16-172 and 11-07-14-150). He ordered that the workers seal the door on the work site and that they HEPA vacuum and mop the halls at the end of every workday. The inspector did not address complaints regarding uncertified workers, non-compliance with NYC DOHMH pre-work notification of lead abatement work, posting tenant notification, etc., because they were not under his jurisdiction. Complaints to 311 for these non-compliances cannot be processed because the 311 City complaint Center does not have a protocol for such complaints to be directed to the appropriate agencies. I discussed the required DOHMH pre-work notification of work disturbing more than 100 sq.ft. of lead paint surface (as is presently the case), required record keeping, etc., at length with June Agaro, a supervisor at the NYC DOHMH Lead Poisoning Prevention Dept. Installers did not follow proper procedure, while trying to achieve vacuum pumping out air from the unit, gadget was not working no movement was seen on pump gauge. They claimed the system had leakage. All joints were checked for leakage with soap solution on joints and no leakage or bubbling was detected. Then to see if the problem was with pump gauge, AC unit's service port was closed, pump started again, gauge still did not show movement. The installer told that gauge is not working but pump worked and without any information available due to not working gauge, ran pump for short time, with no info whether required vacuum was achieved, then started filling up AC unit with R-410A gas, not liquid full amount. Then started testing unit. AC turned on for couple minutes then turned off and red button turned on saying to check outdoor unit. NYC Department of Environmental Protection	59-17 Junction Boulevard	Flushing	New York	11373	The NYC DEP has had a set of regulations detailing the procedures and design for asbestos abatement within the City of New York. Major changes were made in the regulations about a year and a half ago. During the preparation of these changes several members of the DEP took the initial asbestos project designer course. That was over 2 years ago. Since then, the regulations have been revised again several times. Also, a review process has been established to address fire and means of egress issues during the abatement process. I don't believe that the DEP employees have been maintaining their project designer certifications by taking the annual refresher course. The requirement to design the procedures to address the fire and means of egress issues only requires that the individual preparing the plan be a professional engineer or registered architect. Wouldn't the writer of the regulations as well as the people designing the fire safety plan be required to maintain their project designer certification? I don't think they have. Century Salvage LTD.	1175 Flushing Avenue	Brooklyn	New York	11237	The sidewalks and roads around this salvage company are covered and layered in oil and other automotive liquids. They do not appear to take any precautions when dismantling the cars and trucks. The smell of oil can be detected from at least a block away. They have been operating in this manner for quite some time, and the liquids must be seeping into the ground.		yes	no	Intentional	Dump/Buried	Land Water Air	Company
Century Salvage Ltd.	1175 Flushing Avenue	Brooklyn	New York	11237	Oil and gasoline from salvaged cars is completely covering the sidewalks and roadway. The intersection of Stewart avenue at Flushing Avenue being the worst. The street and sidewalks are littered with car parts. The smell of oil and gasoline is overwhelming. The company treats the public sidewalk as their own private parking lot at night. On hot days the road and sidewalk become more hazardous as the oil heats up, this creates an extremely slippery and unsafe condition! I would imagine that the liquids are seeping into the ground as time passes without proper clean-up. The company seems to exhibit no interest whatsoever in environmental safety, and /or precaution!		yes	no	Intentional	Spill	Land Air	Company

USPS Queens P&DC	142-02 20 Ave	Flushing	New York	11351	Reporting of a potential hazard of an asphyxiation environment of deadly and poisonous Phosgene gases in the 2nd Floor Chiller Room (Room 2127) at the USPS Queens P&DC, 142-02 20 Ave, Flushing, NY 11351. The building has approximately 1,000 employee on a 24 hours, 7 days a week occupancy. The 2nd Floor Chiller Room (Room 2127) houses 3 large industrial chillers each with over 1,000 pounds of the R123 refrigerant, one standard split unit air conditioner using 9 pounds of R22 refrigerant. There is also a natural gas combustion domestic hot water system. The two refrigerant vapor detection systems are NOT OPERATIONAL and is SHUT OFF. R123 - Dichloro-trifluoroethane: EMERGENCY OVERVIEW: Colorless, volatile liquid with ethereal and faint sweetish odor. Non-flammable material. Overexposure may cause dizziness and loss of concentration. At higher levels, CNS depression and cardiac arrhythmia may result from exposure. Vapors displace air and can cause asphyxiation in confined spaces. At higher temperatures, (>250°C), decomposition products may include Hydrochloric Acid (HCl), Hydrofluoric Acid (HF) and carbonyl halides. (MSDS) The vaporization temperature at standard atmosphere of R123 is 82°F and R22 is -40°F. During the hot summer months where the operation of the chillers will be necessary, the chiller mechanical room is not cooled and thus the temperature in this room will far exceed the 85°F needed to vaporize both refrigerants. The release of ozone depleting refrigerant into the atmosphere will disperse the oxygen in the room thus suffocation will occur. Unknow	87-41 62nd Road	Rego Park	New York	11374	I have seen one of my neighbors burning what is believed to be garbage in the back of his house. Most of the time at night. They use a 55 gal drum which has been blacked from the fire. Also, they are repairing, or stripping cars in the common driveway in the rear of the house and I have found car parts in the middle of the common driveway hidden in the bushes. I can't be positive, but I have seen what looks like oil, that may been dumped down the sewer. They are doing major car repair and must be putting oil etc somewhere. Brad Burd - Owner B&B Painting by the Pros	287 Lombardy Blvd	Bay Shore	New York	11706	B&B painting by the Pros was contracted to paint my house interior, oil paint was used on the trim. The painters then cleaned their brushes in my back yard. The grass turned brown about a month later, but I thought a minor frustration. This spring, bulbs did not come up. I dug out an effected area and the dirt was white - as the trim paint - and smelled strongly of alkyd or turpentine or mineral spirits, whatever they used. I dug a 4x3 x3 ft deep hole and did not get to the end of contaminated soil. I know water on long island is from the ground, specifically my own drinking water, and I am concerned about the volume of paint and thinner that was dumped in my own backyard. There are several more sites where dumping was performed, all in my backyard. I saved the dirt I removed from the site mentioned in case it is needed for examination. It all smells strongly of paint. Bombardier Transportation	JFK airport Panam Road Building 402	Jamaica	New York	11430	I am writing to you today to inform you that there is a condition that exist on the airtrain railroad system which I believe is a hazard to the environment. I have noticed whenever I get the opportunity to go onto the railroad tracks there is alot of dirt and grease buildup in and around the switches. When it rains the grease can get into the sewer, contaminating drinking water. This condition has been in existance since before I was hired by this company. At this time is does not seem like an attempt has been made to clean it up. Another thing I noticed, alot of the equipment that are installed on the track was built using fiberglass. This fiberglass is now falling apart, when the wind blows you see the fibers in the atmosphere. If this is hazardous to my health then what about the people that live around this system. This means this system is endangering the health of many more in the neighborhood of this railroad.		yes	no	Unknown	Spill	Land Water Air Worker	Company

The smoke and smell fills the courtyard behind our apartment buildings. Yesterday morning I woke up with my bedroom filled with smoke, I'm lucky I woke up at all; I have no desire to be asphyxiated while I sleep. I have lived here for 34 years and I have never had this problem before. I called FDNY TWICE yesterday, they came, the smoke and smell stopped for a few hours each time, but, then started again. I would like to feel safe in my hoe again, I'm afraid to sleep in my bedroom because of the smoke and smell, and my whole house smells like burning oil, wet sand, and burning plastic all in one. People who live in these buildings facing the courtyard can't open their windows. Obviously the FDNY can't do anything about it. But, I don't like having my mouth,nose, throat, and lungs from the smoke and that smell. I would very much like to be able to open my windows again. This is ridiculous, I'm very worried that the smoke is toxic and I don't think it's right that this is happening in a residential area, and anything that smells like that, can't possibly be good for you or the environment.	02/13/2011	yes	no	Unknown	Release	Air	Unknown	I think it's the Church, but, am not sure, it could be Morgan Court next door to it, Both are on Madison Ave between 35+36th street

Schwartz and or Shartz o	215E 205 Street	Bronx	New York	10458	We had some information to add about pets, pets' excrement,feather and blood spatters found/documented to ASPCA for further investigation. This is in relation to earlier reports about UK and USA ID in context of alias names now appearing. A) ACRIS websites reports show an IRS lien in 2008 of about $29,000 associating to suspect violators listed above for further investigation. B) A new alias "David Shartz" under dba VANDERLAY INDUSTRIES, DAVID SCHARTZ and or mis-spelling appears on DEC pesticides and remediation lists. We think that these parties and alias who apparently are registered to government agencies as at least one being a professional are not reporting the full context of their complaints especially the timing of an HPD report following a 911 call of 07 Jan that POA (Jon and Miharu on behalf of owner Inata)had to undertake to gain blocked and hindered entry. On 29 Dec 2010, a third party estimate made by Shartz/Schwartz's associate left out--in writing-- the pets and other obvious issues at hand and an area expert professional was not allowed to the site as well as after 911 call discovery and documenting the Proactive Pest Control (Shartz/Schwartz associate) estimate contained irregularities indicative of other known shams in this potential area of agency abuse for investigation of alias names / reports.	12/29/2010	yes	no	Unknown	Spill	Air Documents	Unknown	The threats online to us after the 911 call were reported and there is traces at yahoo, Apple (mac.com), cingular, AOL and att on yahoo. The online agencies started to take action as we understand but they require police or subpeona orders to study or release facts of TOS (terms of service) breaches. Fomr 17 Jan to ongoing the over a dozen harassing /threats accelerated while the pattern remains morphing similar constructs of emails from mac.com to yahoo.com to cingular and now the latest email threat one in a "malformed" spam design that poses as FBI and was also sent to a different email other than artspaceky@aol.com under our AOL master account. Since so many undisclosed alias names are showing up and IRS liens and earlier report we think some unknown method is being used to confuse the agencies of all facts. We wonder what names were given as well as timing to various agencies in context of the emails, texts etc that can be traced and studied as part of investigation.

The alias names appear to associate to a $25M fraud on a lease in 2009 whihc investigation may confirm. Also, there appears to be more going on here than just structuring or fraud with the DEC, EPA and HPD which somehow have not been fully informed of inspections done on 29 Dec 2010 and 07 Jan 2011 911 call that found tenant caused pet feces, urines, feathers and blood spatters from their unlicensed unlawful business in a residence home. Video and photos were sent out to attorneys on 07 Jan and later ASPCA was contacted but somehow we think that the EPA, HPD and DEC--like ourselves--were not given full information in context of events nor informed of what was found at 911 call that came about because tenants were hiding a mess they created including an inaccurate report and the tenants failure to allow professionals in on at least two occasions requiring the 911 call. New York City Health and Hospitals corp.	125 worth st.	New York	New York	10013	I was an employee of HHC for 26 years. I am an architect who managed construction projects in city hospitals. In the mid 80's I was certified as an asbestos investigator. After some time I was informed by my employer that they would not provide required medical,respiratory protection. I informed them in writing that their actions were illegal. They did not respond. In 2005 I developed a lung disease of unknown origin. I was, and am under the care of Dr. Stephen Levin of the Mount Sinai School of Medicine. In 2006 I was medically cleared to return to work. My doctors letter emphatically states that I cannot be present at construction sites and cannot be exposed to environmental dust. For 26 years I had worked in an office in lower manhattan and visited job sites periodically. After developing lung disease my employer assigned me to work at a construction site, I was actually sitting in a construction area with dust so thick it could be seen in the air (have photos). Furthermore I was assigned to manage asbestos projects at the site. It has been determined by the NYS Workers compensation board that I have an occupational lung disease and am permanently disabled. I requested that my employer provide a reasonable accomodation for my disability and allow me to work in the office I occupied for 26 years. This request was ignored. After returning to work and being assigned to the construction site my condition became markedly worse. Family Health Foods Store	1789 Victory Blvd.	Staten Island	New York	10314	This is a complaint of a recurring problem with this store's burglar alarm. It is an extremely loud piercing alarm that can be heard for blocks and about 2-3 times a week the alarm goes off in the middle of the night. I have complained countless times to the store, and have called my local police precinct as well as elected officials. No one to date has been able to stop this from occurring and it has been going on for years. Every time I complain, the store says that the alarm is very sensitive but yet they never will replace it. I would like to ask someone to come to the store to investigate and ask the store to turn on the alarm so you can gauge whether the loudness is within acceptable decibals, as I'm sure it is much louder than the law permits. The happens randomly so when anyone is called by the time they get there the alarm goes off, then it will go on again sometimes within hours. I am hoping someone from this department can please help as this is a very long time that this neighborhood has had to endure this. The fumes are frequently lingering in my home due to the mechanic closing their doors for winter. In addition, the mechanic stores used engine oil in metal drums in back yard. The drums are exposed to the elements, rusted and are on higher ground than my backyard causing me concern that the oil will run onto my property. A possible solution would be to have a proper ventilation system; and finished walls to contain the fumes within the facility. DIAMOND AUTO BODY	94-11 44TH AVENUE	ELMHURST	New York	11373	Diamond Auto Body shop is located about 15 feet next to our house. Their hours of operation are typically from Monday to Saturday from 8am to 9pm and sometimes later, and sometimes even Sundays. When they perform prepping of the cars to receive paint, they "grind" the car exterior either at outside of the shop or inside without closing the "door". The "dust" generated from the grinding spreads into the air and our home. When they perform painting of the car, they either do it outside or inside without closing the "door", the paint is seen spreading into the air and even into our house. The smell of the paint is horrific and can be smell inside our house. Sometimes they close the "door" (in winter time) but there seems to be no sort of ventilation at all inside the shop and we still smell the paint in our house. This has been going on for at least the past several years until this Summer that we couldn't take the smell anymore. I called NYC 311 to complaint about the situation (Reference #185045420) several times. However, the conditions/situations did not seem to be rectified. On 12/15/10, they were painting the car inside the shop with the "door" closed, but the paint can still be smelt in our house. I am writing to seek help to resolve this matter desperately. We have 2 daughters in our home who along with us are constantly being exposed to this pollution. Mamouns Falafel Restaurant	119 MacDougal St.	New York	New York	10012	Every Morning, around 6am-7am Mamouns's pulls their deep fat fryer from their kitchen, and wheels it onto the sidewalk. They open the valve, and empty the grease contents into a container. From there they begin to hose the fryer off, with the valve still open. The food particles, along with the leftover grease are sprayed into the street, running down the length of the block, southbound. A sewer grating , just outside the restaurant is where they hose the larger food waste particles. They also wash off kitchen utensils, and hotel pans, down the same city sewer drain. In the summer, it cause quite the stink. They then scrub the sidewalk, just outside the restaurant, with soapy water.... to cover their practices and avoid any walkers who pass from slipping. Usually around 11pm-12am On the sidewalk, outside the kitchen entrance on 6th Avenue(Avenue of the Americas). This has been happening for years. I am a resident of the area, so I frequently pass the establishment nightly. While walking the other night, I slipped in a puddle of this most disgusting grease/sludge. Might I add this sludge has extended it's degree many many feet from the restaurant. It accumulates the full extent of the block, where it drains into the city sewer. When I got home that night, there was the most foul smelling scent coming from my shoes. That sludge, is a result of years of kitchen grease, food waste, bacteria and stench has stained the sidewalk. There are Grease puddles that collect and have begun a transformation into a sludge. Needless to say i nearly broke my neck, slipping in this sludge. It travels southbound, on 6th avenue, and even passes an MTA subway line grating, which i am sure pours into as well. They hose off their mats, the sludge runs down the block and the food waste that was on the mats gets hosed into the streets. Juliette Sergile	224 West 82nd St , Apt. A	New York	New York	10024	Juliette Sergile feeds the pigeons outside of her building, littering and throwing bread and birdseed into the street and on the sidewalk. The birds congregate in such mass, making it impossible to walk on the sidewalk, forcing pedestrians to walk in the street. In addition, the droppings and excrement left by the birds is all over the sidewalk. (caked on so thick, it still remains there after a heavy rain.) This has created a massive influx of other vermin on the block, including rats and mice, and a mess of pigeon fecal matter all of the streets and sidewalk. The excrement accumulates at the entry way of residential buildings on the street (specifically 224 and 214 W82nd st) forcing residents to walk through the excrement every time they enter and leave their homes. Complaints have been made to her landlord, NY City Dept. of mental health and sanitation, and the local community board with no end to the problem, and no solution to curb its intensity. This has been going on for years, and continues to get worse by the day, as she feeds the birds several times a day. Neighbors, business owners, and even the Church Pastor across the street have asked her to stop, and she simply refuses. The mess is out of control, and the residents of West 82nd St fear health complications such as illness, which can be passed and contracted through pigeon droppings, in addition to other problems that may arise from the tremendous increase in rats and mice that have sprung up on this block. Again, the amount of pigeon waste that accumulates as a result of this is out of control and making West 82nd St uninhabitable. Michelle Marlowe	1 River Place, apt. 1124	New York	New York	10036	The issue is a an occupant in a large residential apartment building who lives two units west of my apartment. In April 2008, this resident's apartment emitted an odor which strongly resembled decomposing flesh. Many surrounding residents including myself have written literally dozens of letter to Silverstein Properties Management to complain about this, in part because most surrounding apartments air vents bring the odor directly into each apartment. Personally, I have called the Board of Health several times, and they arrive with a large compliment of FDNY staff. The apartment was "Treated" and the results would last one day, when the smell would return. On December 26, 2009, the building management installed eight 500HP HEPA generators on the eleventh floor in the hallways to attempt to lessen the odor. The sound is intense, very much like a barrage of lawn mowers, and even with that in place, the odor remains. Many residents have vacated, and I'm seeing an allergist every week for skin reactions to whatever is inside that apartment. The smell is overwhelming, and the living situation is subhuman at this point. Even more complicated is that this is a luxury rental building and these apartments rent for $3000-$6000/month. Even if nothing can be done to salvage our health, I'd love to know why this is happening. Pending a response, I must plan to vacate ASAP. Ever since, there is an awful smell that permeates the entire building throughout the day including: the lobby, elevators, foyers, 3rd floor (where I work), in our TV studios on the 19th floor, and out on the sidewalk. I come to the office feeling well but find myself constantly nauseated at work and have loss of appetite. I only feel well when I leave the building to get fresh air. There is clearly a major ventilation problem and we are unable to open the windows to get fresh air. This is a high-rise office building with approx. 25 floors so this is likely affecting hundreds, if not thousands, of people. I have filed complaints with my company's Human Resources Office and with our Office Services and they are trying to work with the building to get this resolved but I would like to see immediate corrective action taken.

The fire department was on the premises on the afternoon of August 22, 2009 because of concerns about a large oil spill associated with the electric generator in back of the building. The generator was installed so that management could provide its own electricity for the entire building. We have 84 apartments. There was always trouble with it when it was in operation. Cohen	805 3rd avenue	New York	New York	10022	The owners at above address started demolistion work on their vacant floors. The contractors who are handling this job are bringing down sheet rocks and other types of debris to our loading dock. However, the wind is carrying the dust into the front lobby where its causing strange reactions. Some are scratching as though they've been rubbing against fiber glass, others have heart conditions and they are breathing in this dust and one person's hand swelled up like a balloon possibly from breathing in the dust particles. No one is saying whether there's asbestos in the dust particles. I think its unfair and criminal that the owners expect people to work under these conditions. US Helicopter	34th Street & FDR Heliport	New York City	New York	10016	I am a current homeowner residing at 36th and 1st Ave in New York City. This letter is a follow-up to a letter I sent to Congresswoman Maloney (April 26, 2008 - attached) regarding a serious issue with the Heliport on East 34th Street & FDR (operator: US Helicopter). My concerns are around safety, incredible noise, and toxic fumes which permeate throughout our neighborhood and children?s playgrounds/parks. I believe (as do most residents in the neighborhood) that this heliport promotes excessive traffic and noise and provides a persistent safety and environmental risk to residents and children. It appears as if this has been a persistent issue with the heliport, I found an article dating back to 1998. (http://www.nytimes.com/1998/11/07/nyregion/metro-news-briefs-new-york-east-side-heliport-ceases-operations-on-weekends.html) This states the city has ended weekend operations, however they are in constant violation of this since we see helicopters landing during the weekend at all hours! I would greatly appreciate your help in getting this heliport moved, restricted, or at the very least covered to prevent pollution, noise, and reduce safety concerns! I will forward this letter to the state senate as well as the mayor?s office for review. Thank you for your help in this matter ?	08/16/2009	yes	yes	Intentional	Release	Air	Company

Please be advised that we came home this evening to yet another new environmental mess, and further destruction of our quality of life. Photos were taken and available for your review upon request. The photos depict concrete covering the street, in both thin layers and thick puddles, running one way to a to a sewer line and another way toward the water, throughout the street and onto our private property. The concrete that the Dare Place builders were using today is part still still wet. Part is a thin coating which will dry rapidly. When it dries and becomes airborne, a further health hazard will likely exist. Michael Rollhaus	134 Grand Street	New York	New York	10013	I work at 136 Grand St. NY, NY 10013, which is a living and working building. Michael Rollhaus operates a furniture manufacturing business underneath the building and uses toxic glues, which permeate into the building. This happens several times a month at least, which is enough to be very annoying to me. The smell is very strong at time. It has been causing others to sneeze and get headaches. The name of the business is "R. Seating Products."	05/15/2009	yes	yes	Intentional	Release	Air	Company
UNKNOWN	UNKNOWN	NYC NY	New York	10007	-What bad and strange weather here in NYC NY recently. I plan to head to my volunteer job today in Midtown Manhattan and do not know if this hurricane is going to continue in my area. It supposedly was going to continue to rain heavy with winds, like a tropical storm until Sunday, but I do not know and am quizzical if like the hurricane is going to continue. The clouds are very dark and the rain has stopped along with the wind. NYC NY is also a thrill seeking city where people risk death often in things so they will love this weather. Wow. Strange weather here in NYC. All these thrill seeking people here in NYC NY will find joy in riding to work with the threat of a flood while they are stuck at work. Again, weird weather here in NYC recently. Michael Rollhaus	134 Grand Street, Ground Floor	New York	New York	10013	The Co-op board of our building, which is zoned for mixed use living and working, has requested for many many years that Michael Rollhaus, of Rollhaus Seating Products, ventilate his business properly and cease from using toxic glues when fabricating seating furniture. Recently when the smells from the products he uses were permeating the 5th floor lofts board members went down to Rollhaus to try and investigate but were not allowed in. Today, again, there were noxious odors. Board members were allowed in this time but as is often the case the Rolllhaus venting fan was broken and toxic glue products were being used. This was verified by Mr. Rollhaus himself. Please note that the tenant living directly above the factory, Ms. Dorothea Rockburne, contracted cancer and has repeatedly asked him to stop using these products. There are several other tenants in the building with health issues. Two tenants on the west side of the building (Rollhaus is on the west side) have developed asthma in the last several years. There are 10 children in the building growing up with these fumes infiltrating their homes on a regular basis. In my specific loft on the 5th out of 6 floors we have smells leaching in from the front door, elevator shaft that opens directly into our loft/home/work space and through the buildings air ventilation shaft. Can Mr. Rollhaus, who is also a member of the board, be thrown off the board if he does not even protect the welfare of our children, other property owners, his and other business staffs, clients and guests? Thanks for your help with resolving these issues. Kind Regards, Wendy R Friedman PS I am writing	05/13/2009	yes	no	Intentional	Release	Air	Company	Here are the locations on Google Maps and Map Quest. Fort Hamilton Army Post	110 Schrum Avenue	Brooklyn	New York	11252	I was recently at the Fort Hamilton Army Post in Bay Ridge, Brooklyn. I noticed several construction projects where the silt fences were either compromised or missing. There was also dirt and debris tracked from the construction sites onto the roadways and several of the storm drains were not protected. I am concerned that large amounts of silt are finding their way into the storm system and ultimately in the bay. I do not think they are following SWPPP procedures. I do not know if you have direct oversight of the Army Post but I wanted to make you aware of the situation. Thank you	05/18/2009	yes	yes	Accidental	Release	Water	Government /Military

New York City Housing Authority	450 Lillian Wald Drive	New York	New York	10009	In the NYC Lillian Wald Housing Projects which is managed and owned by the New York City Housing Authority on the lower east side of Manhattan there is a Boiler Room located at 450 Lillian Wald Drive that appears to burn garbage on a regular basis and then the black smoke from that burning garbage is then released on almost a daily basis from a smoke stack located on top of a 13th story housing authority apartment building which is connected to that same boiler room. Depending on which way the wind is blowing that day the smoke is discharged in every direction in the areas that are around the smoke stack which contain seating areas for residents of the apartment complex and parks and playgrounds. I suspect this is a violation of the either the Clean Air Act or other EPA air pollution control regulations and urge you to investigate the matter. Thank you.	04/01/2009	yes	no	Intentional	Release	Air	Government /Military	The Boiler Room and its connected smoke stack are located at 450 Lillian Wald Drive in the Lillian Wald Housing Complex on the lower east side of Manhattan between East 3rd Street and East 4th Street located between Avenue D and the FDR Drive.
Hudson Hill Condominium (Construction Site)	462 West 58th Street	New York	New York	10019	The building construction at 462 West 58th Street has been cutting large amounts of styrofoam on the top of the construction site for 3 days now without any type of enclosure (as required by law). This results in a "blizzard" of styrofoam particle debris that descends on the neighboring apartment buildings throughout the day. The particles range from small to very small and they become a huge air pollution problem because they manage to come through screens of open windows. It would greatly improve the air quality here if the EPA forced this construction site to comply with NYC building construction code and simply cut the styrofoam within an enclosure so that the debris can be collected properly and not just released into the air. Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter. There are babies and small children living in this apartment building (450 W 58th St.) and they shouldn't be breathing in this styrofoam dust as it can cause numerous health problems.	04/18/2009	yes	no	Unknown	Release	Land Air	Company	Hudson Hill Condominiums (Construction Site) 462 West 58th Street New York, NY 10019 At 58th Street between 9th and 10th avenues.
